cate how important it is to make our words count for good instead of for evil. And how often the evil comes not from malice afore thought but from an unguarded, or undisciplined remark-a mere slip of the tongue!

The first Old Testament passage deals in part with the evil which comes from a blatant misuse of the tongue-outright living. Seven things are listed which are "an abomination" to the Lord; yet two of these appear to be the same, 'a lying tongue" and "a false witness that speaketh lies." It would seem that the writer was bent on emphasizing the evil of lying above all others.

the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This is life! On top of the world . . . then lost in the depths.

For a child it can be exciting sport. For a grownup it is bitter reality.

No other resource in life is better geared to this frightening swing than religion. For centuries it has provided purpose for our summits, and courage for our valleys.

Don't let some imagined sense of the inevitable chain you to the pendulum of fate. The Church, its message rooted in the life of Jesus Christ, offers all men a Faith for climax . . . and for crisis.

Attend church next Sunday. Let the love of God invade your defeats . . . add opportunity to your victories.

This question is one which every participant must answer for himself. Presumably most farmers will choose to put it into legumes or grass and thus take advantage of the year's layoff to build some fertility and humus in the soil.

If it is to be put back to work in the future growing feed and fiber crops, consider putting it into legumes, suggests one soil conservation specialist. If it is to be kept in pasture, consider grasses or legume-grass mixtures, he suggests as the alternative. "In this way," he adds, "the land can continue to work for the farmer and the nation."

But what about the future — what will be available in the way of a comparable program? Nobody can say for sure at this time. The administration is working overtime to get a long-range

The President also has asked mittee handling the highway that the bonus be increased from one - half percent to 1 percent of the state's regular federal highway allotment, but the Neuberger - Cooper amendment only would extend the present program through June 30, 1963. The program expires June 30 unless extended.

> Opposition - Heading Senate opposition to the bill is Sen. Pat McNamara (D Mich.), floor manager of the highway bill and reportedly acting chairman of the Public Works Committee when the vote was taken on a proposal by Sen. Cooper to extend the federal billboard program. Behind McNamara is the powerful billboard lobby whose influence is felt in state as well as in federal legislatures.

> Subsequent to the Committee vote, Scripps - Howard Newspaper Alliance reported that a poll of all 17 members showed that 12 favored the extension. The newspaprs reported that when the vote was taken nine members were present and five reported they voted for the amendent. No contest, however, was made of the chairman's decision that the amendment did

The Outdoor Advertising Assn. of America, the leading spokesman of the billboard lobby, said the Neuberger - Cooper amendment should be defeated because the present program is unworkable - demonstrated by the fact that only two states have so far qualified for the bonus. Instead, the group says, the industry should be allowed to regulate itself

Critics of the industry, on the other hand, say that self - regulation in the past has been unsuccessful and thus billboards must be controlled by federal and state government.

How Program Works — Under the present system set up in 1958, a state must pass legislation prohibiting billboard adverising within 660 feet of new rights - of - way along the Interstate Highway System acquired after July 1, 1956. Certain exceptions were permitted for businesses within the 660 - foot area and concerns in nearby commun-

Once the state law is approved by the Commerce Department and the state signs an agreement with the Secretary of Commerce ensuring proper enforcement of the federal requirements, the state is then eligible for bonuses based on the number of miles of Interstate highway within the state which are actually subject to billboard controls. As of June 9, only two states-

Maryland and North Dakota had signed the agreement with the Secretary of Commerce, and neither had filed for the bonus. Thirteen more states as of that date had passed legislation which was under evaluation by the Commerce Department, States considered likely to complete the agreement before the June 30 deadline: Kentucky, Oregon, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

A million-dollar flood can be the offspring of a carelessly caused brush fire - one that gets its start when someone flips a match. Perhaps not a board foot of lumber is lost. But something else infinitely valuable is destroyedwatershed - the brush, the leaves, the natural mulch that act like a giant sponge to hold rain water and return it to underground storage. Slopes burned bare cannot hold rain water. The run off becomes a flood, spreading destruction, polluting reservoirs. Rich soil is washed away, leaving a barren wasteland. Streams dry up. So don't measure a fire's cost just in terms of timber burned. Watershed, too, is invaluable. Wherever you go in the country, follow Smokey Bear's rules. Don't forget: nine out of ten forest fires are man-caused.

Remember-only YOU can prevent forest fires!
